

Balloon Name: Uncle Roy

Pilot: Kevin Raymond

Address: Pike, N.Y.

Kevin is an art teacher at a small school near Letchworth State Park. He got involved in ballooning through crewing for a local balloon company. After many summers chasing, he started taking lessons, bought a balloon, and obtained his private hot air balloon license. He and his wife Barb live in the small rural town of Pike, NY and this past spring welcomed their first child. When the winds are right you can find him flying either a colorful Aerostar RX7 or a homebuilt Boland AX4 ultralight. He enjoys the peaceful serenity of flying and the challenge of navigating one of the most beautiful parts of New York State.
